This interactive event will examine key challenges in ensuring women and girls benefit from sustainable social protection systems. Addressing the intersection between Agenda 2030 and social protection systems, experts and activists will look at best practice especially in terms of caring. There will be time for discussion and interventions from the floor to provide an opportunity to hear best practice from around the world. In addition to generating solution focused discussion and best-practice in the implementation of Agenda 2030, we seek to build a key set of actions which can be used by all.
